Children's Hospital of Philadelphia
PolicyLab

Why Child Abuse in Military Families May Be Going Unreported

A PolicyLab study found that one in five U.S. Army soldiers' children who received a medical diagnosis of child abuse or neglect had a corresponding report substantiated by the U.S. Army Family Advocacy Program.

Source:

Pew Stateline

Visit Link