Philly offers affordable housing to help parents regain custody of kids in foster care

PolicyLab was mentioned in an article about a new program to support the housing needs of children involved in the child welfare sytsem as the center is the official evaluators of the program.

Source:

WHYY

Visit Link