Kids on Antipsychotic Meds More Prone to Diabetes, CHOP Researchers Find

PolicyLab's Amanda Kreider is interviewed about recent PolicyLab research that studied 1.3 American kids and found that certain antipsychotic medications raise their risk of Type 2 diabetes.

Source:

Newsworks/WHYY

Visit Link