Military Children Have More Health Care Needs, but Less Access and Lower Quality, Study Finds

An article featured a new PolicyLab study that found that families who receive insurance through TRICARE reported lower quality of care than civilian families with public or private coverage.

Source:

Military Times

Visit Link