Children's Hospital of Philadelphia
PolicyLab

Why is it Harder for Military Families to get Behavioral Health Care?

An article featured PolicyLab's study, which found that military families who had children with behavioral health needs covered by TRICARE saw large reductions in health care access compared to families with healthier children.

Source:

WHYY

Visit Link