Children's Hospital of Philadelphia
PolicyLab

Colorado’s COVID-19 Cases are Stable Now, but Officials Worry Labor Day Could Set Up a Winter Spike

PolicyLab Director David Rubin, MD, MSCE, was quoted in an article discussing how gathering over Labor Day weekend and changing weather in Colorado could impact COVID-19 cases.

Source:

The Denver Post

Visit Link