

Jessica Gregory MD

Affiliate Trainee

Jessica Gregory (she/her) is a PolicyLab affiliate trainee and a pulmonary medicine fellow in the Division of Pulmonary and Sleep Medicine at the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia (CHOP).

Dr. Gregory is interested broadly in early life stressors as they relate to pediatric health outcomes and health disparities. She is more specifically interested in the effects of environmental pollutants early in life on outcomes in pediatric lung disease as well as mitigating disparities in health outcomes through public policy and advocacy in environmental justice.

Dr. Gregory received a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology with a certificate in Neuroscience from Princeton University. She received her medical degree from the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine. Dr. Gregory completed her pediatric residency training at the Boston Combined Residency Program in the Leadership in Equity and Advocacy (LEAD) Track prior to joining the team at CHOP.
