CHOP study: Medicaid, CHIP beat out private insurance in helping low-income children

This article discusses research done by PolicyLab's Amanda Kreider and Dr. David Rubin that found children with public insurance had more preventive visits and fewer out-of-pocket costs than children with private insurance.

Source:

PhillyVoice

Visit Link