

High blood pressure is vastly underdiagnosed in children, new study says

Date:

Monday, Nov 21, 2016

A new study from PolicyLab's Dr. Alex Fiks found a widespread underdiagnosis of hypertension and prehypertension by pediatricians in children ages 3 to 18.

Source:

Philadelphia Inquirer
Visit Link