Children's Hospital of Philadelphia
PolicyLab

Under-Reporting of Child Abuse Suspected Within U.S. Army

A new PolicyLab study found that one in five U.S. Army soldiers' children who received a medical diagnosis of child abuse or neglect had a corresponding report substantiated by the U.S. Army Family Advocacy Program.

Source:

Physician's Briefing

Visit Link