Children's Hospital of Philadelphia
PolicyLab

Child Deaths Tied to Abuse, Neglect Still High

The Chicago Tribune reviews several infant deaths involving co-sleeping. Dr. David Rubin argues that because such deaths are preventable, they should be investigated by child welfare officials.

Source:

Chicago Tribune

Visit Link